

Ian Stuart Bio

Since the outset of his career in 1976, Ian has amassed a wealth of commercial real estate experience across the globe; having completed assignments on every continent with the exception of Africa and Antarctica. He moved to the San Francisco Bay Area from England in 1980, working initially as a project manager for high rise offices before founding an advisory practice for a major brokerage in San Francisco, and later Silicon Valley. During this time his most notable assignments were the world headquarters of Oracle, Adobe and Autodesk. In addition, he undertook assignments from Taiwan to Tokyo to Toronto to Tucson. Ian relocated to Tucson in 2005 and has continued to build a practice focused on the provision of ongoing advice to owners and users of commercial real estate including the City of Tucson, the State of Arizona and the Town of Sahuarita.

Over his career, Ian has represented all manner of organizations, public and private, "institutional" to "entrepreneurial". For his clients, he offers a keen insight into the real estate process, transaction structures and the issues to be faced.
